Rhodes amendments on paper ballots

announcement that Gov. James A. marize the issues. Rhodes' four multibillion bond issues will be submitted to Ohioans on paper ballots poses an interesting question of voter attitude for election analysts.

Chan Cochran, the governor's administrative assistant, thinks that pattern "definitely favors us."

Cocharan reasons that proponents of the issues will be willing to make the effort to mark the paper ballots, while the indifferent or uninformed, who often vote against money issues, will shun the extra paper work.

In addition the pro-issue vote is expected to be highly organized by Rhodes' campaign committee. The ability of political organizations to "get the vote out" in off-year elections can be a major factor, particularly in the event of a low turnout.

Secretary of State Ted. W. Brown, who mailed ballot language for nine proposed constitutional amendments to election officials Friday, chided Senate Democrats for failing to act on a bill income housing.

Samuel Bronfman, 21, after shaving his eight-day beard and showering at the Fifth Avenue apartment of his father, Seagrams chairman Edgar Bronfman, went by helicopter to the family estate at Yorktown Heights in Westchester County Sunday afternoon, accompanied by his father.

There the young man was met and embraced by his divorced mother, Ann Margaret Loeb Bronfman. He spent the night at her home in nearby Purchase, where he was living at the time he was

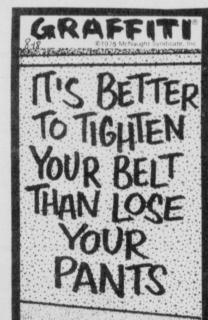

A family friend, Jonathan Rinehart, said that at the news of Samuel's rescue, "there was a lot of smiling, a hell of a lot of smiling.

Another family friend in Yorktown Heights, Peter Kaufman, told reporters that family members came together in the middle of the living room and 'almost went through the ceiling" in a burst of joy." Jose Louis, the family butler, opened champagne for the celebration.

Both at the apartment and the estate the Bronfmans declined to talk with newsmen, but the 6-foot-2 younger Bronfman, clad in work shirt and jeans, appeared unhurt.

LaPrade said it was "absolutely" untrue that Samuel had been "buried" with a 10-day supply of water and air as the kidnapers had claimed in a ransom note to Edgar Bronfman last Monday.

The young heir to part of the billiondollar Seagrams whisky fortune was found in Lynch's Brooklyn apartment early Sunday. He was rescued about 24 hours after his father had delivered the ransom, one of the largest in U.S. history, to two men in a car in the Woodside, Queens, section of New York

Scott, wife claim FBI harassment

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) -Attorneys for sports critic Jack Scott and his wife, Micki, say the FBI is. subjecting them to massive harassment in its search for fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

The constant surveillance became so severe earlier this year that the couple hid from federal agents between Feb. 27 and April 10, the Scotts charged in legal briefs. At an Aug. 7 hearing for Mrs. Scott,

U.S. Atty. Brandon Alvey called the harassment charge "a figment of somebody's imagination." He had no comment on the new legal briefs.

The papers were filed by the Scotts' attorneys in preparation for a hearing today in U.S. District Court. The Scotts are trying to quash subpoenas ordering their appearance before a federal grand jury investigating the harboring of Miss Hearst.

Mrs. Scott offered sworn statements of several incidents that she said constituted FBI harassment.

She said last July 30 she called a Portland record shop to order tickets for a concert, and told the salesperson she would be right over. When she and her husband arrived, federal agents served them with subpoenas.

"To the best of my knowledge, these agents did not follow us to the record store - they were waiting there for us when we arrived," Mrs. Scott said. "I believe that the only way they could have known where we were going was to have monitored my telephone conversation with the salesperson at the record store.'

AFS student from France arrives at new WCH home

By ED SUMMERS

Marie Hatinguais, American Field Service foreign exchange student at Washington Senior High School, has arrived at her new home in Washington C.H.

She will be spending the school year with the Charles Stimpert family, 10 Oxford Place. Miss Hatinguais is the 17th AFS exchange student at Washington C.H. since the program began here in 1959.

Marie arrived in New York Aug. 5 following a flight from her home in France, and was united with her American family two days later after an overnight bus trip to Columbus.

A suburb of Rouen, Saint-Etienne-du-Rouvray, is where Marie makes her home with her mother and father. It is situated in Normandy, about 120 miles north of Paris.

Her father is an accountant in a factory

Since her arrival, Marie has kept busy meeting new friends and visiting various points of interest in the area. She has traveled with the Stimpert's to see a performance of Tecumseh, and also visited Riverfront Stadium to watch the Cincinnati Reds play. She said she didn't understand the game at first but liked it anyway.

Marie said that her experiences so far had been enoyable and that she liked Washington C.H. and the people she had met.

The blaze at the second largest refinery on the East Coast could be seen for 20 miles. Flames covering an area about a half-mile square roared into a spreading cloud of black smoke.

The fire started Sunday at dawn when an 80,000-barrel storage tank ignited while being filled with oil from a tanker. The ship was not damaged and the fire was brought under control by 9

But according to Jack Burk, manager of the refinery, the facility's sewage system failed to drain off oil that was spilled from the first fire. Fumes backed up.

"Then it flashed," Burk said.

At 4 p.m., when the area was crowded with equipment and men, a bowl of flame erupted. There was one explosion, then another. Flames were everywhere.

Within minutes the fire jumped to 11 alarms, activating 600 fire fighters.

Flames scorched the Penrose Avenue Bridge over the Schuylkill River, a key commuter artery into the city and the main route between downtown Philadelphia and Philadelphia International Airport.

The bridge was closed to all traffic. The area around the sprawling refinery was sealed off, then power and telephone service in the neighborhood went dead.

Firemen tried to battle the blaze, but they realized it was useless. Commissioner Rizzo announced, "Let it burn. It'll have to burn itself out. It may take two days, maybe three, but that's all we can do.

Five of the injured were firemen who were treated at local burn centers. They were all in critical or stable

Soviet missile flops

WASHINGTON (AP) - One of Russia's most advanced long-range missiles has suffered two consecutive flight failures, raising the possibility of problems with this recently deployed Soviet nuclear weapon.

U.S. intelligence sources report that the SS19 missiles flopped during training launches in June and July after an unbroken string of 25 flawless tests over the past two years. In both cases, the failure occurred in the missile's second stage.

The SS19, with a range of about 6,300 miles, has been rated by U.S. experts as the most successful of four new Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles.

It was the first Russian ICBM to be deployed for combat with multiple warheads (MIRVs) that can be aimed precisely at separate targets.

Pair claims Hughes dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Manhattan stockholders have filed suit contending that Howard R. Hughes is dead. If the recluse billionaire doesn't surface to respond to their suit, they intend to ask the courts to appoint an administrator for his estate. The civil complaint in state Supreme Court alleges that while Hughes is reputed to be residing at the Hotel Xanadu in the Grand Bahamas, he has been dead for an indefinite period and is claimed to be alive "for the personal profit of various and sundry persons."

The suit was brought by Victor and Ellen Kurtz, minority stockholders of Air Liquidation Co., formerly known as Air West Inc. In the suit, they seek from the company's stockholders as a class. damages of $100 million.

A few isolated thundershowers occurred over extreme southeastern Ohio during the night, otherwise skies remained clear to partly cloudy. The shower activity resulted from a weak cold front moving into central Ohio.

Skies were mostly clear over the state this morning, although dense fog was reported in southern river valley

Morning temperatures ranged mostly in the low 60s, except mid 50s in the extreme northwest and mid to upper 60s in the Ohio River Valley.

The cold front which moved into central Ohio overnight was forecast to move south this afternoon. High pressure building behind the front will dominate weather conditions over the state through Tuesday. The high pressure is accompanied by generally dry conditions, with lower temperatures and lower humidity.

Gangland slaying 5th in past year

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)-A fifth had been working on a car with a Tennessee gangland-style slaying in the past year is under investigation as possibly connected with prostitutes operating in truck stops and interstate highway rest areas, state authorities

The weighted, chained body of the latest slaying victim, Bobby Joe Jordan, Nashville, was fished from the Harpeth River near Kingston Springs, Tenn., last Friday and identified Saturday.

Jordan faced a manslaughter charge along with his brother in the slaying of the brother's brother-in-law but Jordan's family denied he was connected with prostitution.

But police noted the slaying was similar to that of James Shelley, 35, Cincinnati, whose body was found floating in Douglas Lake near Dandridge, in East Tennessee, last Feb. 31.

Both bodies were bound and weighted. Four months earlier, Carl David Fornash, 48, of Covington, Ky., was found dead in his burning car beside Douglas Lake, in the same area where Shelley's body was found.

Agents of the Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification said the deaths of Shelley, a groom at River Downs race track in Cincinnati, and Fornash had been definitely linked to the prostitution ring.

Authorities also are investigating the death of Kenneth D. Miles, 42, Nash-with prostitution.

She said he told her he was working on his own car the last time she saw him — Aug.11.

J.D. Vandercook, chief deputy sheriff of neighboring Sumner County where Miles was shot down last December, said, "All indications are that this killing is connected with a national syndicate, possibly working out of Wheeling, W.Va., and Cincinnati.'

Lt. Joe E. West of the Tennessee Highway Patrol said he worked undercover for six months last year trying to crack the prostitution operations.

"They work for someone," West said. 'I think it's organized crime.'

He said the prostitutes operate at interstate rest stops, some truck stop parking lots and special "trucker lounges" at some back road truck

For $40, he said, a trucker can buy a few intimate minutes with a woman in his sleeper cab, her camper van or a truck stop back room.

He said East Tennessee truck stops were padlocked in Knox and Hawkins counties last year as a result of prostitution

Seek bodies of missing ship crew

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Searchers dig through the debris of a burned out British oil tanker today for three missing crewmen.

Three bodies were found Sunday during an initial search of the Globtik Sun, which burst into flame Friday after colliding with an oil platform in the Gulf of Mexico. Forty of the 46 crewmen were rescued after the collision.

"The search was only about 10 per cent effective because there was so much debris and ashes aboard," said a Coast Guard spokesman.

"We didn't move the remains because we were afraid of disturbing the ashes and losing any possible clue to their identities. But due to the condition of the remains, it appears unlikely we'll be able to identify them positively.

The Fayette County Sheriff's in a grassy area near an area used for vehicle parking. She was unconscious and had suffered facial injuries.

The woman was removed to Fayette Memorial Hospital in Washington C. H. by ambulance and was later transferred to University Hospital in that old-style boosterism is not necessarily good for a community, and may be bad for it. The people in Colorado have been given a special dollop of this wisdom, thanks to their non-experience as the site of the 1976 Winter Games of the Olympics.

Columbus. Investigation into the incident is continuing by sheriff's deputies.

At the start of this decade a small but highly vocal minority generated what seemed to be a lot of enthusiasm for the idea of staging the games in the Rockies. The gung-ho spirit of those behind the project was a marvel to behold.

Then it began to dawn on a lot of Coloradoans that the games would be both enormously expensive and harmful to the environment. In 1972 they voted on the proposition, and rejected it.

These days the soundness of that powerful men in America, is bothered by this not at all. Deliberately puffing on his pipe, his speech almost rustic in its cadence, he talks about the perils of big government spending and continuing huge deficits.

But this is not scare talk. Scare talk is not Burns' style. He considers himself a moderate and his goal is to cool inflation by moderating the great money aggregate.

In his view, the predicted rate of 5 per cent to 7 per cent rise in inflation by the end of the year is still far too high, although he quickly adds that it is a lot better than the double-digit inflation of

His mail from out in the country indicates support for his policy. The stockbrokers may not like it, as they certainly don't like the continuing decline of the stock market. But even the big banks, Burns believes, are coming to see the wisdom of moderation.

An economist himself, he has little use for most economists. They talk in abstruse terms about theories that have slight relation to reality. Facts, that's what you must deal with, price levels, consumer spending, housing costs. It is such hard facts that escape the theories of the professional economists.

Burns realizes that he is a rather lonely figure at a moment in which the Congress is pushing large spending measures and the Administration is concerned lest the budding recovery be nipped off.

This does not daunt him as he points out the inflationary forces even beyond the announced deficit of $60 billion, by Administration calculation, in the next fiscal year. The deficit figure rises to $69 billion, by Congress' figuring. One example of these inflationary forces he predicts is the off-budget deficit of $14 billion in various government lending

The chairman's skepticism takes in the nation's leading bankers. delegation came down to see him to urge his backing for a Reconstruction Finance Corporation which, similar to that of the early '30s, was designed to cushion the Depression.

They saw an opportunity to unload every bad debt they had, said Burns, puffing away at his pipe. He answered with an emphatic no.

Early in New York City's crisis several bankers accompanied Mayor Abraham Beame in an appeal to the chairman for the board's support. Again he said no, realizing that backing a rescue operation for New York would mean a half dozen other cities at desperation's door asking for similar

Testifying before the congressional Joint Economic Committee, Burns was forthright

The Federal Reserve has no intention of permitting rates of increase of monetary aggregates as high as those in the second quarter to continue.

.The business and financial community which is highly sensitive to monetary growth rates, might well have concluded that the federal reserve is releasing a new wave of inflation. Any such interpretation by market participants could have had damaging effects on economic prospects at this state of the business cycle.

The phrase Burns uses as a slogan for his policy is "sustainable prosperity." An economic revival based on more inflation inevitably must be short-lived and must end with an even worse collapse, as he sees it.

His scorn covers the frequent prophecies of prosperity that come out of the Administration. No matter what the temporary hurt, he is steering straight ahead to damp down the inflationary fires. If this is not stout Horatius at the bridge he is the nearest thing we have to that stalwart.

The Fayette County Board of tile main. Benefits are expected to Commissioners were to receive bids on two county projects and heard a report on the recent meeting on the jointcounty Cronell-Stoughton ditch project during their regular weekly session

The commission members were to open bids at 11 a.m. for road improvements on the Robinson and Bogus roads and were to have bids submitted for rebinding of books from the county recorder's office at 1:30 p.m.

County commissioner Robert Mace, who represented the local board at the Thursday joint county board meeting in London on the Cornell-Stoughton ditch project, reported the Fayette and Madison county commissioners heard and approved two alternate proposals for the project as specified by Madison County engineer Neil Babb.

The estimated total cost of the first alternative, utilizing a 12-inch tile, would be $6,954.13, while the second alternative with a 10-inch tile would cost an estimated $6,609.10, Babb told the joint board.

Mace stated Babb said the project is expected to drain an area of approximately 90 acres at an average cost of $100 per acre. He added Babb said the benefits of the project would well exceed the cost due to a wet soil exceed $25 per acre a year, Mace said. The final hearing on the 3,900 foot long ditch project, which is located northwest of Bookwalter and drains into Paint Creek, will be held Sept. 15 in the Madison County commissioner's office in London.

In other business, the county commissioners reported the Fayette County Regional Planning Commission would meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the county commissioner's office to consider two subdivision requests for approval

The two subdivisions are the Indian Ridge Subdivision, a five-unit subdivision in Wayne Township at Ohio 753 and Flakes-Ford Road, submitted by developer Robert E. sweeps over northern U.S.

> By The Associated Press Cool temperatures prevailed across the northern third of the nation today with highs ranging from the 50s to the 70s. Warm weather and high humidity continued elsewhere with readings > generally in the 80s and 90s. Showers and thundershowers spread from the Mississippi Valley to the south Atlantic Coast. There were showers also from the northern and central Pacific Coast across the northern Rockies into the northwestern Plains. Clear to partly cloudy skies were found elsewhere.

There were thunderstorms early this morning over the center of the nation. They were scattered over the lower Missouri Valley and the middle Mississippi Valley

Hail and gusty winds accompany some of the thunderstorms along with occasional locally heavy rain.

More than three inches of rain fell Sunday evening in southeast Kansas, raising rivers and streams sharply.

Early morning showers and thunderstorms also extended along the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Coast up through New England. Light rainshowers and drizzle fell in the Pacific northwest, and there was some light rain in the southern Rockies.

Cold air pushing down between the upper Great Lakes and the northern Rockies kept overnight temperatures unseasonably cool in some areas. They ranged from the 50s down to the mid 40s in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Temperatures across the nation before dawn ranged from 86 at both Phoenix, Ariz., and Needles, Calif., down to 41 in Grand Forks, N. Dak.

Refugee camp fighting erupts

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) Fighting erupted at a refugee camp for Cambodians near the Thai-Cambodian border over the weekend and at least two Cambodians were killed and several wounded, Thai Interior Ministry officials said today.

The officials said a three-man team has been sent to the Ban Klong Yai camp to investigate the incident.

Meanwhile, the English-language newspaper Bangkok Post said four refugees were killed and 10 wounded Saturday and quoted police as saying a gunfight erupted when a group of refugees protesting government regulations clashed with refugees who opposed them.

The guest table was decorated with multi-colored daisies centered by a beautifully decorated wedding cake which was served by the groom's sister, Mrs. Janice Campbell. Mrs. Mary Sue Spengler presided at the punch bowl.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Armbrust, Mrs. Ora Mae Arrasmith, Mr. Don Belles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Belles, Mrs. Mary Sue Spengler and son Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moore of Xenia, Mr. Bernard Mann, Mrs. Geneva Allemang, Mrs. Mildred Whittington, Mr. and Mrs.

Christian Circle holds meeting

The Women's Christian Circle of the Southside Church of Christ held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Howard Wright. There were 15 members and one guest present when the meeting was opened with a prayer by circle president Mrs. William Temple. Reports were heard and approved.

During the business, Mrs. Richard Leslie reported on plans for the men and boys banquet, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 20 at the church Taylor Jefferson will be guest speaker and the theme is "Onward Christian Soldiers." It was also decided to purchase school clothing for a boy at Grundy Mission, which the circle sponsors. Mrs. Paul Pettit and Mrs. Dan Kelley are cochairman for this project. A picture of the boy and a note from the housemother at Grundy was viewed. A note thanking the group for dress patterns sent to Margaret Williams in Africa was also read.

It was announced that First Christian Church will hold a meeting Oct. 27 and 28, when Mrs. Gladys Smith from North Carolina will be guest speaker. More information on the meeting will be made available later.

Mrs. Kelley presented the program entitled "Do You Deserve an Apple?" She spoke on different teaching methods which could be used to liven a classroom. Each member presented a "Dear Abby" letter, telling about a problem which she had concerning a child. Mrs. Kelly previously taught school four years and has worked with the mentally retarded and handicapped

Sherbet and cookies with punch were served by Mrs. Ron Clay and Mrs. Leslie

Craigs tour historical sites

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig of 808 E. Market St., were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Mitchell in Glenford the past weekend. Since both couples were observing wedding anniversaries this week, they toured the Zene Grey Museum near Zanesville on Saturday, then went on to Walnut Creek (Little Switzerland) where they enjoyed dinner in an Amish Restaurant.

They then motored on to Dover where they toured the Warter Museum, and saw the intricate wood and ivory carvings of the American Railroad exhibit, also the 18th century Steel Mill. Nearby in a workshop Mrs. Warther's collection of buttons and her flower garden were admired. One of the world's largest collection of arrow points is also here.

In Zoar, Ohio, the four toured the beautiful Zoar Gardens, which were very colorful. In New Philadelphia, they were guests also of Mr. and Mrs. Art Mitchell, the elder Mitchell's son son and daughter-in-law

On Sunday, they attended the United Presbyterian Church in Mount Perry, where the Craig's formerly resided, and renewed old acquaintances. En route home the Craig's visited briefly near Somerset with Mr. and Mrs. Max Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ridenour.

Police captain shot to death

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) - A Monroe County Jail inmate accused in the fatal shooting of a Bloomington police captain has been quoted as saying he was trying to kill himself.

'I didn't mean to kill him, I wanted to kill myself," police quoted Gary A. McDaniels as saying. McDaniels, 23, allegedly shot and killed Capt. Donald E. Owens on Friday as McDaniels was being led from a courtroom back to his jail cell. The shooting happened during a struggle for Owens' gun, police said. Marcus was wounded in the incident.

Kroehler won't rebuild in Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — The Kroehler Manufacturing Co. has informed its employes that it will not reopen its Xenia furniture plant, destroyed in the April 3, 1974, tornado that devastated

The decision was unexpected, and a major setback to efforts to rebuild the city's economy, City Manager Robert Stewart said.

The decision was disclosed Saturday at a private meeting for about 200 employes, and contrasted with a public announcement by the firm June 11, it had purchased 94 acres in the city's proposed $1 million industrial park and would build a 143,000 square foot plant on the site.

Elmer A. Dagenais, executive vice president of manufacturing for Kroehler, reportedly attributed the decision to economic conditions especially disappointing because Xenia generally and the depressed state of the just authorized $100,000 for public furniture industry.

Stewart termed the decision by down on the company's building costs.

1974, that it would definitely reconstruct the plant.

Last September, Kroehler announced (city's) future." Stewart said he realized economic realities were responsible, but "it's still hard to ac-

The Kroehler plant was to be the focal point of the industrial park, to be named for the firm.

Stewart said the announcement was improvements around the site to cut

General to testify in Kent State case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) - An measure on attorneys for the shooting Army general with extensive National victims, who have brought the suit. list today as the defense prepared to rest its case in the $46 million Kent State damages suit.

Lawyers defending 32 present or former state officials and Ohio National Guardsmen were debating whether to call the officer.

The general, who was not identified by defense attorneys, was to fly in Sunday for an interview during which the lawyers would learn of his point of view on the May 4, 1970, shootings.

Defense attorneys would like the general's testimony to counter that of James F. Ahern, former New Haven, Conn., police chief and a member of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest. Ahern told the jury that guardsmen should not have fired on demonstrators as the troops attempted to disperse an antiwar rally.

But no matter what we do, we will be through by noon Monday," one defense lawyer promised.

That prediction depended in large

Guard experience was on the witness Those attorneys represent nine students injured and the families of four students killed.

Last week a defense witness, former Kent State student Joy Bishop, testified in three minutes of direct examination that she saw a civilian fire the first

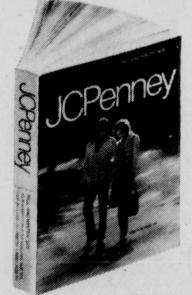

The plaintiffs tried to discredit her story in more than two hours of cross-examination.

Also on the witness list was ex-Guard Lt. Dwight G. Klein, the only defendant who has not told his version of events May 4 to the jury

Klein was one of the last three guardsmen to draw objections when defense attorneys moved to dismiss the claims against their clients at the end of the plaintiffs' case.

Plaintiffs' attorneys dropped their claims against nine guardsmen when they rested their victims' case two weeks ago. But the plaintiffs stressed that they wanted Klein and the other

Reds sweep Pirate series

By BRUCE LOWITT

AP Sports Writer The Pittsburgh Pirates are undoubtedly happy to be back home after four disastrous games in Cincinnati.

But after a two-game midweek series against San Francisco, the Bucs will find themselves face-to-face once again with the National League's version of "Jaws." The Reds, who have chewed up virtually everything in sight this year, invade Pittsburgh for another four games starting with a twi-night doubleheader next Friday.

Actually, Cincinnati only nibbled at Pittsburgh on Sunday — but the result was the same. A pop-fly single by Dan Driessen broke a sixth-inning tie, then Bill Plummer and Pete Rose singled for seventh-inning runs that gave the Reds a 3-1 victory, their eighth straight

And it was the Pirates' sixth straight defeat and 11th in their last games, a nosedive that has slashed their onceimposing lead in the East to a scant one-half game over Philadelphia.

In Sunday's other NL games, the Phillies beat San Diego 10-4, St. Louis pulled within two games of first by ripping Atlanta 8-1, New York shut out San Francisco 3-0 to climb within 3½ games of the top, Los Angeles downed Montreal 5-3 and Chicago defeated Houston 11-7.

Phillies 10, Padres 4

In a 14-hit Philadelphia attack on San Diego, Larry Bowa singled for a run in the first inning, then the Phils got three in the second, two on Dave Cash's triple. They got two more in the third on successive homers by Jay Johnstone and Greg Luzinski, his 31st of the season, and wrapped it up with four in the eighth, two on a single by Garry

CLEVELAND, Ohio Cleveland Browns free safety Thom Darden suffered a knee injury Saturday that may keep him out for the rest of the season, team spokesmen said Sunday

The team physician says Darden received a torn ligament Saturday during a game in which the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 14-6.

The injury probably will require surgery, but that decision has not been made yet, team spokesmen said.

The go ahead people.

Cardinals 8, Braves 1

The Cards might be working up a love-hate relationship with the Reds. Cincinnati, having helped them the past four games, now invades St. Louis for a three-game set before heading for

"I expect the Reds to play us the way they've played us all year," Cards' Manager Red Schoendienst said. "It's important for a team to have momentum — and that's something they've had all year. But we've got a little momentum, too, and we'll battle

They beat the Braves handily as Ken Reitz drove in three runs and Ron Fairly added two RBI.

Mets 3, Giants 0

Tom Seaver drove in one run and scored one to become the league's first -game winner with relief help from Jerry Koosman. Seaver pitched threehit ball for 7 1-3 innings and fanned six Giants to take over the NL strikeout lead with 175.

The Mets gave him the only run he needed on third-inning doubles by Mike Phillips and Del Unser.

Dodgers 5, Expos 3

Bill Russell's two-run single capped a decisive three-run second inning that fifth-inning double, then the Cubs carried Los Angeles past the Expos. Mike Marshall picked up his 11th save after Gary Carter hit a two-run homer off Doug Rau in the eighth.

The three-time world champion Oakland A's don't scare easily, but they were scared of the baseball Sunday, and tonight their knees are shaking because they're up against one of baseball's hottest teams — the Detroit

The reason for their baseball phobia was Milwaukee fireballer Pete Broberg who hit three A's batters, the same number who hit him back. Broberg gave up three hits, none of them in the second inning when the A's scored all their runs in a 3-1 victory over the Broberg walked Billy Williams, then hit Sal Bando and Gene Tenace on successive pitches to load the bases. A walk to Jim Holt forced in the first run, Bando scored on a double play grounder, then Tenace scored on Robin Yount's 34th error of the season.

"My fastball was moving, maybe too much," said Broberg, who walked eight men in eight innings. "They've got some hitters who stand close to the plate, and the ball was jumping up and biting them.

The A's are afraid of being bitten by the Tigers, who have finally found their teeth after 19 straight losses. Ray Bare broke the futility string Saturday night with a two-hitter as the Tigers won 8-0, then rookie Vern Ruhle made it two in a row Sunday with a five-hit, 7-0 victory over the California Angels.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston dropped the first game of its doubleheader with Chicago 6-2, then won the nightcap 4-3 in 11 innings; Baltimore blanked Texas 4-0; Cleveland

Dr. Hagerty retains WCC golf crown

Dr. Robert Hagerty successfully defended the Annual Men's Senior Golf Championship title Sunday at the Washington Country Club. He carded a 39-39-78 to take this year's crown by a one-stroke margin over Harris Willis.

Howard Burnett won the handicap division by carding a net score 67.

Age-group handicap winners were Carl Elberfeld with a net score 69, George Walker with a 73, Ed Vollette with a 69 and Hap Weatherly with a net score 71.

Next Sunday the country club will hold its annual team scramble tournament for both men and women. Actual score results for Sunday's tourney follow:

WEST SALEM, Ohio (AP) - Don Garlits suffered his first International Hot Rod Association loss of the year Sunday, losing to Canadian Gary Beck by three-hundredths of a second at Dragway 42.

Beck, of Edmonton, Alta., streaked down the quartermile drag strip in 6.00 seconds, three-hundredths of a second faster than Garlits, of Tampa, Fla.

Baker wins race; Tiny Lund killed

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Buddy Baker, a guy with a heavy foot and a big heart, didn't know exactly how to take his victory in Sunday's Talladega 500 stock car race.

Exhausted after edging Richard Petty by a scant three feet, Baker's face turned sad and his blue eyes welled with tears when told his longtime friend Tiny Lund had been killed in a smashup early in terace.

"Tiny used to drive for my dad," said Baker, son of former driver Buck Baker. "I used to go to Tiny's place and

"He was ...," Baker said in a choking voice, "one of the great people in racing.

Lund, at 6-foot-4 and 250 pounds a physical match for the husky Baker, was crushed to death when his car was broadsided

It was Lund's only NASCAR Grand National race this season, but the 43year-old veteran from Cross, S.C., was the second leading driver in the late model sportsman ranks. Lund, the 1963 Daytona 500 winner, had been tapering off his racing schedule.

Baker, spared the sad news by his crew, didn't know about Lund's death until asked his reaction in a post-race interview. Stunned by the news, Baker walked away for a few minutes to be by

It wasn't the only tragedy in motorsports over the weekend. Driver Mark Donohue and two race track guards were critically injured when his Penske Formula I racer crashed into the rails during a practice lap prior to the start of the Austrian Grand Prix in Zelteg, Austria.

Lund's death, the first in NASCAR Grand National racing since Larry Smith died here in 1973, cast a pall over the usual tight finish. Eight of the 13 races here since 1969 have ended with the top two cars less than a length

The victory, Baker's second at the 2.66-mile Alabama International Motor Speedway trioval this season, was worth about $24,000, and was his 10th triumph in 17 years in Southern style stock car racing.

Don Bies winner of Hartford Open

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) -"Winning never left my mind," Don

"I was trying to get it out of my mind, trying to blank it out, trying not to think about winning and just concentrate on what I'm doing.

'But I couldn't do it. I was beginning to wonder if I'd ever win.'

The wonder, along with the frustration, failure and disappointment, came to an end Sunday

Washam wins Berg Classic

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - JoAnn Washam capitalized on the frustrations of a couple of near misses during her threeyear pro golf career and crushed her competition in the first annual Patty Berg Classic.

'I just played the course," said the petite golfer from Fort Worth, Tex. 'It's tough sometimes when a lot of great players are right on your heels, but it really helped once I had that eagle on three.

Miss Washam concluded one of the most spectacular tournament performances in recent years on the Ladies Professional Golf Associaton (LPGA) tour Sunday and won the $45,-000 tourney with a blistering 13-under par 206 for her first pro victory

However, it hasn't always been that easy for the 25-year-old Miss Washam. Only two months ago, at Medina, Ohio, Miss Washam carried the lead into the final round, but collapsed with an 80 on the final day.

"I'd hoped I would profit from what happened at Medina," she said. "I was relaxed and just played the course.'

when Bies, an easy-going former club pro, rolled in a six-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole and beat Hubert Green for the title - and $40,000 - in the Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

"I couldn't believe it - I still can't believe it — when the putt went in the hole and I was a winner," he said.

Bies, who joined the tour almost by accident eight years ago, had won a lot of money but nothing else in his pro career. At 37 he may be the oldest first-time winner ever. The records don't

"I thought I might never win," Bies said. "I've played reasonably good over the years. I've been in contention before. About half those times, when I was in contention, I played pretty good. It wasn't like I was choking all the time. Sometimes the putts just wouldn't fall. Sometimes somebody just played better than I did."

This time the quiet, low-key Bies got it home.

It was a battle He had to make a 20-foot birdie putt on the 71st hole to regain a share of the top spot and force the playoff.

He had to make a nerve-testing, sixfoot par-saving putt to stay alive on the first playoff hole.

And he had to make another sixfooter on the second hole to win it.

Causes of Head and Face Pain

One of the most distressing complaints brought to the attention of the doctor is pain in the face and head.

Such a vaguely described symptom represents a challenge in diagnosis because the nerves of the head, the face, the ears, the eyes, the jaws and the neck have an intricate system of intercommunication. In order to track down "headache," the universal term for pain in that area, cooperation between the doctor and the patient is necessary. Far too often, patients become quickly discouraged and never completely pursue the problem. Doctors sense the patient's disappointment when a quick answer is not found. The discouragement that follows often results in a failure to establish a positive diagnosis.

The teeth, the sinuses, the bite of the teeth, jaw joint disturbances, muscle tensions of the neck, allergic reactions, toxic responses to drugs, arthritis of the cervical spine of the neck, circulatory problems, and neurological disorders are only some of the vast number of possibilities.

Diligence must continue, in spite of temporary disappointment, if the correct diagnosis is to be made and proper treatment started.

A Nobel Prize should be given to the doctor who designs a battery-heated stethoscope.

Patients always complain that doctors apparently wash their hands in ice water and keep their stethoscopes in the refrigerator before they listen to the chest.

The flimsy disposable paper examining gowns are hardly sufficient to cover the breakout of goose pimples that patients many other European experts asked by Besse to play the hand. Only Fritz Goudsmit of Holland found the winning line of play.

This extraordinary series of failures is even more remarkable when you consider that the best line of play is clear-cut once it is pointed out. Apparently, the hand produces a blind spot. South should ruff the heart lead in dummy, cash the A-K of clubs, discarding a heart, and ruff East's queen of clubs with the ace of trumps!

He then plays a trump to the queen and discards his last heart on the fourth round of clubs. It does not matter whether the spades were originally divided 3-1 or 2-2, as the slam is now certain whatever is returned after the club is ruffed.

Dummy's king of trumps is an entry to the remaining club tournament many years ago in tricks and there is only one enemy trump missing.

The suggested line of play is Marmic system. He got to six by far the one most likely to succeed. It wins whenever the Disturbed by the outcome, clubs break 3-2 (68 per cent of since he could have made the the time) and when the spades

Hartke's offices reported bugged

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Sen. Vance Hartke's offices were allegedly bugged before the 1970 elections by persons trying to gain information on the Democrat's contributors, the Indianapolis Star said today.

In a copyrighted story, the Star quoted unidentified sources as saying three men posing as telephone repairmen planted the listening devices in August and September of 1970. The paper said the sources were persons either formerly or presently associated with International Investigators Inc., an Indianapolisbased private detective agency. The agency is operated by C. Tim Wilcox, who was recently charged with directing the theft of files from the Indiana Private School Accrediting Commission in 1972.

The Star quoted Hartke as saying he remembered having problems with leaks during the 1970 campaign. Marion County Prosecutor James F. Kelley said the allegations would be investigated by a county grand jury.

Indiana population shows increase

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) -Indiana's population has grown to 5,330,000 since the 1970 census with the addition of 136,000 new Hoosiers, an Indiana University researcher says.

IU School of Business researcher Morton J. Marcus said Hamilton was the fastest growing county with a growth rate of 19.4 per cent in the last five years. The county added 10,600 persons to its population. Warrick County had the second-highest rate at 19 per cent, Marcus said.

'It does suggest a possible stimulus to retail trade, to the demand for housing and to the demand for certain government services," Marcus said of the increase. "Population decline does not necessarily signify a movement toward either ecological balance or economic decay."

SHERIFF THURSDAY — Dewaine L. Jones, age not given, Bloomingburg, private

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate panel probing U.S. intelligence agencies says the government has the technological capacity to impose "total tyranny" if a dictator ever came to power.

'There would be no place to hide," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the committee, said Sunday on

Americans could lose all privacy

NBC's "Meet the Press." Church said the eavesdropping technology given the government by intelligence agencies would enable the government to impose total tyranny 'and there would be no way to fight back because the most careful effort to combine together in resistance to the government, no matter how privately it was done, is within the reach of the government to know, such is the capability of this technology.

Church said that U.S. intelligence agencies, "in the need to develop a capacity to know what potential enemies are doing," perfected a "very extensive capability of intercepting messages wherever they may be in the airwaves.

"Now, that is necessary and important to the United States as we look abroad at enemies or potential enemies. We must know," Church said.

"At the same time that capability at anytime could be turned around on the American people and no American would have any privacy left, such as ... telephone converations, telegrams, it doesn't matter.'

In other matters, Church said:

-Covert CIA actions on behalf of Portugal's non-Communist majority would "at least conform to our values as a country and to our professed principles." But he indicted such a move would be unwise because "right now there is a very grave risk of CIA exposure" and because Portuguese democrats were getting help from European countries.

-He did not share the view that Central Intelligence Agency Director William E. Colby should be replaced. Colby "has been forthcoming" with his committee, Church said.

Dominic Byrne, 53, who with Melvin Patrick Lynch, a 37-year-old city fireman, is being held on charges of extortion and illegal use of the mails, has reportedly told police and the FBI the two unidentified men commandeered his car for the caper.

A family friend, Jonathan Rinehart. said that at the news of Samuel's rescue, "there was a lot of smiling, a hell of a lot of smiling.'

Another family friend in Yorktown Heights, Peter Kaufman, told reporters that family members came together in the middle of the living room and "almost went through the ceiling" in a burst of joy." Jose Louis, the family butler, opened champagne for the celebration.

Both at the apartment and the estate the Bronfmans declined to talk with newsmen, but the 6-foot-2 younger Bronfman, clad in work shirt and jeans, appeared unhurt.

Asst. Secretary of State James Marsh reports past trends with paper ballots indicate "the vote on those issues will be reduced" because some voters simply won't take the time to study the lengthy documents.

Interim Mideast accord seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of assessing the situation in the Middle sidered essential to Israeli willingness State Henry A. Kissinger says his new round of shuttle diplomacy stands a Israel-Egypt accord that will be "a significant step toward peace in the Middle East.

Negotiations have progressed to the point where all parties believe it would be useful for him to return to the Middle successful conclusion," Kissinger said Sunday.

The secretary told newsmen at the Alexandria, Egypt. Kissinger also buffer zone. plans brief visits to Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Announcement of the forthcoming trip followed the Israeli cabinet's approval of negotiations conducted so far between between Kissinger and Israel's ambassador in Washington.

However, a communique issued after four-hour cabinet meeting in Jerusalem said there are "important issues still to be settled" in trying to reach a new interim accord for disengagement of Israeli and Egyptian forces in Sinai.

Informed sources said several cabinet ministers were dissatisfied with terms of the agreement, contending that Israel was being shortchanged.

Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said later that he welcomed Kissinger's return to the Mideast but "there are still problems of clarification and agreement.'

In Cairo, a high-ranking Egyptian foreign ministry official said about the Vail announcement: "Of course it's At the Rocky Mountain resort where Doug Ten Eyck, 33, who has lived at the home since last September, keeps a loving eye on all the dogs. Instead of an empty bottle, a "Handbook of Dog Care" sits on his dresser.

Ryan takes Brandy home, but the rest of the dogs - 15 at present - share Ten Eyck's small room.

Marie Hatinguais, American Field Service foreign exchange student at Washington Senior High School, has arrived at her new home in Washington C.H.

She will be spending the school year with the Charles Stimpert family, 10 Oxford Place. Miss Hatinguais is the 17th AFS exchange student at Washington C.H. since the program began here in 1959.

Marie arrived in New York Aug. 5 following a flight from her home in France, and was united with her American family two days later after an overnight bus trip to Columbus.

A suburb of Rouen, Saint-Etienne-du-Rouvray, is where Marie makes her home with her mother and father. It is situated in Normandy, about 120 miles north of Paris. Her father is an accountant in a

Since her arrival, Marie has kept busy meeting new friends and visiting various points of interest in the area. She has traveled with the Stimpert's to see a performance of Tecumseh, and also visited Riverfront Stadium to watch the Cincinnati Reds play. She said she didn't understand the game at first but

At least three more firemen were missing and five firemen were among the 13 persons injured in the fire that started Sunday and burned through the night at the Gulf Oil Co. Refinery. It was declared under control early this morning by the Philadelphia Fire

'The flames just engulfed them," said Fire Commissioner Joseph Rizzo, describing how he escaped the first of dozens of explosions but looked back to see three of his men sealed in flames.

They were trying to get under the foam, but to no avail," he said. "They were human torches.'

The blaze at the second largest refinery on the East Coast could be seen for 20 miles. Flames covering an area about a half-mile square roared into a spreading cloud of black smoke.

The fire started Sunday at dawn when an 80,000-barrel storage tank ignited while being filled with oil from a tanker. The ship was not damaged and the fire was brought under control by 9

Clean-up crews moved in. They spent the day pouring chemical foam onto the smouldering tank. The firemen were conditions.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Three relaxed. There was no apparent

But according to Jack Burk, manager of the refinery, the facility's sewage system failed to drain off oil that was spilled from the first fire.

Fumes backed up. 'Then it flashed," Burk said.

At 4 p.m., when the area was crowded with equipment and men, a bowl of flame erupted. There was one explosion, then another. Flames were everywhere.

Within minutes the fire jumped to 11 alarms, activating 600 fire fighters.

Flames scorched the Penrose Avenue Bridge over the Schuylkill River, a key commuter artery into the city and the main route between downtown Philadelphia and Philadelphia International Airport.

The bridge was closed to all traffic. The area around the sprawling refinery was sealed off, then power and telephone service in the neighborhood went dead.

Firemen tried to battle the blaze, but they realized it was useless. Commissioner Rizzo announced, "Let it burn. It'll have to burn itself out. It may take two days, maybe three, but that's all we can do.'

Five of the injured were firemen who were treated at local burn centers. They were all in critical or stable

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Manhattan stockholders have filed suit contending that Howard R. Hughes is dead If the recluse billionaire doesn't surface to respond to their suit, they intend to ask the courts to appoint an administrator for his estate.

The civil complaint in state Supreme Court alleges that while Hughes is reputed to be residing at the Hotel Xanadu in the Grand Bahamas, he has been dead for an indefinite period and is claimed to be alive "for the personal profit of various and sundry persons."

The suit was brought by Victor and Ellen Kurtz, minority stockholders of Air Liquidation Co., formerly known as Air West Inc. In the suit, they seek from the company's stockholders as a class, damages of $100 million.

A few isolated thundershowers occurred over extreme southeastern Ohio during the night, otherwise skies remained clear to partly cloudy. The shower activity resulted from a weak cold front moving into central Ohio.

Skies were mostly clear over the state this morning, although dense fog was reported in southern river valley sections.

Morning temperatures ranged mostly in the low 60s, except mid 50s in the extreme northwest and mid to upper 60s in the Ohio River Valley.

The cold front which moved into central Ohio overnight was forecast to move south this afternoon. High pressure building behind the front will dominate weather conditions over the state through Tuesday. The high pressure is accompanied by generally dry conditions, with lower temperatures and lower humidity

A chance of showers Wednesday or Thursday and mostly fair Friday. Highs during the period in the upper 70s north and low 80s south. Lows at night in the upper 50s and low 60s.

Gangland slaying

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)-A fifth Tennessee gangland-style slaying in the past year is under investigation as possibly connected with prostitutes operating in truck stops and interstate highway rest areas, state authorities

Jordan faced a manslaughter charge

But police noted the slaying was similar to that of James Shelley, 35, Cincinnati, whose body was found floating in Douglas Lake near Dandridge, in East Tennessee, last Feb. 31.

Four months earlier, Carl David Fornash, 48, of Covington, Ky., was found dead in his burning car beside Douglas Lake, in the same area where criminal Identification said the deaths of Shelley, a groom at River Downs race track in Cincinnati, and Fornash had been definitely linked to the prostitution ring.

Authorities also are investigating the death of Kenneth D. Miles, 42, Nashville, and Eugene Cochran, Newport. Tenn., who was found shot three times

Jordan's wife, however, said she had no knowledge of her husband's being with prostitution. Occasionally, she said, her husband would stay out late at night because he had been working on a car with a friend

She said he told her he was working on his own car the last time she saw him - Aug.11.

Colorado's well out of it

Americans are beginning to learn that old-style boosterism is not necessarily good for a community, and may be bad for it. The people in Colorado have been given a special dollop of this wisdom, thanks to their non-experience as the site of the 1976 Winter Games of the Olympics.

At the start of this decade a small but highly vocal minority generated what seemed to be a lot of enthusiasm for the idea of staging the games in the Rockies. The gung-ho spirit of those behind the project was a marvel to behold.

Then it began to dawn on a lot of Coloradoans that the games would be both enormously expensive and harmful to the environment. In 1972 they voted on the proposition, and rejected it.

These days the soundness of that decision is being pointed up by events in Montreal, which is straining every fibre to get ready for next summer's Olympic games. Montreal is all but going broke on the venture. Gov. Richard Lamm of Colorado says, "There but for the grace of the voters go we." It is a salutary lesson in the penalties of throttling the recovery that had promised to end the economic slide.

The chairman, one of the most powerful men in America, is bothered by this not at all. Deliberately puffing on his pipe, his speech almost rustic in its cadence, he talks about the perils of big government spending and continuing huge deficits.

But this is not scare talk. Scare talk is not Burns' style. He considers himself a moderate and his goal is to cool inflation by moderating the great money aggregate.

In his view, the predicted rate of 5 per cent to 7 per cent rise in inflation by the end of the year is still far too high, although he quickly adds that it is a lot better than the double-digit inflation of

His mail from out in the country indicates support for his policy. The stockbrokers may not like it, as they certainly don't like the continuing decline of the stock market. But even the big banks, Burns believes, are coming to see the wisdom of

An economist himself, he has little use for most economists. They talk in abstruse terms about theories that have slight relation to reality. Facts, that's what you must deal with, price levels, consumer spending, housing costs. It is such hard facts that escape the theories of the professional economists.

Burns realizes that he is a rather lonely figure at a moment in which the Congress is pushing large spending measures and the Administration is concerned lest the budding recovery be nipped off.

This does not daunt him as he points out the inflationary forces even beyond the announced deficit of $60 billion, by Administration calculation, in the next fiscal year. The deficit figure rises to $69 billion, by Congress' figuring. One example of these inflationary forces he predicts is the off-budget deficit of $14 billion in various government lending agencies.

The chairman's skepticism takes in the nation's leading bankers. A delegation came down to see him to urge his backing for a Reconstruction Finance Corporation which, similar to that of the early '30s, was designed to cushion the Depression.

They saw an opportunity to unload every bad debt they had, said Burns, puffing away at his pipe. He answered with an emphatic no.

Early in New York City's crisis several bankers accompanied Mayor Abraham Beame in an appeal to the chairman for the board's support. Again he said no, realizing that backing a rescue operation for New York would mean a half dozen other cities at desperation's door asking for similar

Testifying before the congressional Joint Economic Committee, Burns was forthright:

'The Federal Reserve has no intention of permitting rates of increase of monetary aggregates as high as those in the second quarter to continue.

.The business and financial community which is highly sensitive to monetary growth rates, might well have concluded that the federal reserve is releasing a new wave of inflation. Any such interpretation by market participants could have had damaging effects on economic prospects at this state of the business cycle.

The phrase Burns uses as a slogan for his policy is "sustainable prosperity." An economic revival based on more inflation inevitably must be short-lived and must end with an even worse collapse, as he sees it.

His scorn covers the frequent prophecies of prosperity that come out of the Administration. No matter what the temporary hurt, he is steering straight ahead to damp down the inflationary fires. If this is not stout Horatius at the bridge he is the nearest thing we have to that stalwart.

Ohio Perspective

Voters face 9 amendments

By ROBERT E. MILLER Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Ohioans will be asked in November to approve nine constitutional amendments on subjects ranging from bingo and bedsheet ballots to a multibillion dollar economic program by Gov. James A.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has yet to certify the governor's four-part package, but a voter signature drive initiated by Rhodes far exceeded the required 307,201 signatures.

Rhodes' petitioners collected 505,403 signatures from Ohioans, an excess of about 60 per cent. They now are being checked by county election boards to verify that at least 307,201 came from qualified voters.

Based on past similar petition campaigns, Brown said, the excess should more than make up for invalid signatures. The last initiated ballot issue - the unsuccessful proposal to repeal the income tax in 1972 - came with only a 15 per cent excess.

Brown said he thought Rhodes' proposals would be certified for the ballot around Sept. 1.

Leading the list as Ballot Issue No. 1 will be a legislative proposal to authorize the taxation of property used exclusively for recreational purposes on the basis of its use, instead of current market value as presently required. The so-called green belt amendmen is designed to protect Ohio's recreation space by giving owners a property tax break

DEAR ABBY: Since your column is so widely circulated, you can do much for the serious unemployment situation in this country.

I am an executive secretary with one of the top 100 companies in the country. Almost every day, we get applications for employment, some from new college graduates and some from older men who have been in the business world 20 to 30 years.

I'd like to tell these people not to use form letters with their names typed in but to type out neat, individual letters with the attached resume. My boss feels a form letter indicates that the applicant wants a job with ANY company, but an individualized letter means he wants a job with OUR company and no other. The form letter applicants are not even answered, but are thrown in the wastebasket!

Many qualified applicants who badly need a job strike out because they didn't take the time to send a personalized letter.

CONCERNED SECRETARY DEAR SECRETARY: Thanks for a worthwhile tip. A word to the wise should be more than sufficient.

DEAR ABBY: Here is our dilemma: Our only son, John, committed suicide at age 22. His wife Bonnie, was pregnant at the time. She immediately went to Canada to live with her people. (We live in New Jersey.)

Our grandson is now 2-years-old, and we've never seen him because neither of us has had the money to visit.

Bonnie wrote to say she was married last June and her husband is adopting our grandson. We can understand why Bonnie wants to forget the tragic past and start a new life, and we agree that she should. (She's only 24.) But where does that leave us? Our grandson is all we have left of John.

What if Bonnie decides to put us out of her life and not even tell her son about his natural father? Is that fair to

Should we try to keep in contact with Bonnie in hopes that we can see our grandson one day? Or would it be better for him if we dropped out of the picture? We will abide by your JOHN'S GRIEVING PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Leave it to-Bonnie to make that decision and accept it-regardless. I pray for your sake that she keeps in touch with you, sends you snapshots of your grandson and gives you the pleasure of sharing in his growth. And also hope, when the lad is old enough to understand, she will tell him the truth about his natural father.

DEAR ABBY: I must take issue with you concerning an item in your column. One of your contributors signed "Coleen" was undoubtly the innocent victim of a fallacy.

The saying that she attributed to a "12-year-old girl" is a famous quotation by Camus, a French philosopher. Perhaps you would like to set the record straight.

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners were to receive bids on two county projects and heard a report on the recent meeting on the jointcounty Cronell-Stoughton ditch project during their regular weekly session

The commission members were to open bids at 11 a.m. for road improvements on the Robinson and Bogus roads and were to have bids submitted for rebinding of books from the county recorder's office at 1:30 p.m.

County commissioner Robert Mace, who represented the local board at the Thursday joint county board meeting in London on the Cornell-Stoughton ditch project, reported the Fayette and Madison county commissioners heard and approved two alternate proposals for the project as specified by Madison County engineer Neil Babb.

The estimated total cost of the first alternative, utilizing a 12-inch tile, would be $6,954.13, while the second alternative with a 10-inch tile would cost an estimated $6,609.10, Babb told the joint board.

Mace stated Babb said the project is expected to drain an area of approximately 90 acres at an average cost of $100 per acre. He added Babb said the benefits of the project would well exceed the cost due to a wet soil

The final hearing on the 3,900 foot long ditch project, which is located northwest of Bookwalter and drains into Paint Creek, will be held Sept. 15 in the Madison County commissioner's office in London.

In other business, the county commissioners reported the Fayette County Regional Planning Commission would meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the county commissioner's office to consider two subdivision requests for approval.

The two subdivisions are the Indian Ridge Subdivision, a five-unit subdivision in Wayne Township at Ohio 753 and Flakes-Ford Road, submitted by developer Robert E. # Cooler air sweeps over northern U.S.

By The Associated Press

Cool temperatures prevailed across the northern third of the nation today with highs ranging from the 50s to the 70s. Warm weather and high humidity continued elsewhere with readings generally in the 80s and 90s.

Showers and thundershowers spread from the Mississippi Valley to the south Atlantic Coast. There were showers also from the northern and central Pacific Coast across the northern Rockies into the northwestern Plains. Clear to partly cloudy skies were found elsewhere. There were thunderstorms early this morning over the center of the nation. They were scattered over the lower Missouri Valley and the middle Mississippi Valley

Hail and gusty winds accompany some of the thunderstorms along with occasional locally heavy rain.

More than three inches of rain fell Sunday evening in southeast Kansas, raising rivers and streams sharply.

Early morning showers and thunderstorms also extended along the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Coast up through New England. Light rainshowers and drizzle fell in the Pacific northwest, and there was some light rain in the southern Rockies.

Cold air pushing down between the upper Great Lakes and the northern Rockies kept overnight temperatures unseasonably cool in some areas. They ranged from the 50s down to the mid 40s in the Dakotas and Minnesota

Temperatures across the nation before dawn ranged from 86 at both Phoenix, Ariz., and Needles, Calif., down to 41 in Grand Forks, N. Dak.

The New Holland Church of Christ was in charge of the service. Victor Slutz, minister of the New Holland congregation, spoke on the subject, "Justice." He stated that God is justice and spoke of the need for justice in the country and in individuals.

Special guest was Mrs. Evelyn Coffman, Fayette County Common Pleas Court judge. Mrs. Coffman related her concerns over the

The third open-air service of the local deteriorating ethics and morals of the nation. She stated there was much unhappiness in the world now and she expressed there was a trend to negate moral problems, which have reportedly a direct correlation with the high crime rate. Next week will be youth night at the open-air service. Special music will be provided by the SonShine Choir of the First Christian Church and the teen choir of the South Side Church of Christ.

Guest speaker will be Richard Crabtree, minister of the Jeffersonville Church of Christ. Crabtree is an enthusiastic, young minister who previously attended the St. Louis Christian College

The open-air services are held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Miami Trace High School stadium. In case of inclement weather, services will be relocated to the high school auditorium.

Christian Circle holds meeting

The Women's Christian Circle of the Southside Church of Christ held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Howard Wright. There were 15 members and one guest present when the meeting was opened with a prayer by circle president Mrs. William Temple. Reports were heard and approved.

During the business, Mrs. Richard Leslie reported on plans for the men and boys banquet, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 20 at the church Taylor Jefferson will be guest speaker and the theme is "Onward Christian Soldiers." It was also decided to purchase school clothing for a boy at Grundy Mission, which the circle sponsors. Mrs. Paul Pettit and Mrs. Dan Kelley are cochairman for this project. A picture of the boy and a note from the housemother at Grundy was viewed. A note thanking the group for dress patterns sent to Margaret Williams in Africa was also read.

It was announced that First Christian Church will hold a meeting Oct. 27 and 28, when Mrs. Gladys Smith from North Carolina will be guest speaker. More information on the meeting will be made available later.

Mrs. Kelley presented the program entitled "Do You Deserve an Apple?" She spoke on different teaching methods which could be used to liven a classroom. Each member presented a "Dear Abby" letter, telling about a problem which she had concerning a child. Mrs. Kelly previously taught school four years and has worked with the mentally retarded and handicapped

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig of 808 E. Market St., were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Mitchell in Glenford the past weekend. Since both couples were observing wedding anniversaries this week, they toured the Zene Grey Museum near Zanesville on Saturday, then went on to Walnut Creek (Little Switzerland) where they enjoyed dinner in an Amish Restaurant.

They then motored on to Dover where they toured the Warter Museum, and saw the intricate wood and ivory carvings of the American Railroad exhibit, also the 18th century Steel Mill. Nearby in a workshop Mrs. Warther's collection of buttons and her flower garden were admired. One of the world's largest collection of arrow points is also here.

In Zoar, Ohio, the four toured the beautiful Zoar Gardens, which were very colorful. In New Philadelphia, they were guests also of Mr. and Mrs. Art Mitchell, the elder Mitchell's son son and daughter-in-law.

On Sunday, they attended the United Presbyterian Church in Mount Perry, where the Craig's formerly resided, and renewed old acquaintances. En route home the Craig's visited briefly near Somerset with Mr. and Mrs. Max Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ridenour.

BLUEBERRY BREAD

PUDDING

8 slices stale bread

1/2 cup maple syrup Grated rind of 1 lemon

2 cans (15 ounces ea.) blueberries, drained, or 4 cups dry-packed frozen wild blueberries, mixed with 1/2 cup

1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

Use stale bread or toast fresh bread. Brush bread on both sides with a mixture of maple syrup and grated lemon rind. Stand slices upright in a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Spoon blueberries between slices of bread. Drizzle melted butter over top of bread. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 20 minutes or until piping hot and bread is brown and crusty. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Here's a quick-and-easy that can come to the rescue for brunch, lunch or a light supper snack:

CRISPY MEAT SLICES 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce,

1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs

3 tablespoons salad oil 1 can (103/4 ounces) condensed tomato 1/4 cup water

2 tablespoons dry sherry

2 tablespoons parsley flakes teaspoons onion powder English muffins or mashed potatoes

Slice luncheon meat into 6 crosswise slices. Place 2 tablespoons of the Worcestershire sauce in one small shallow bowl and the bread crumbs in another. Dip meat into Worcestershire sauce, then into bread crumbs.

In a large skillet, heat oil. Add meat; fry on both sides until golden, about 6 minutes; keep warm.

In a medium saucepan, combine soup, water, sherry, parsley flakes, onion powder and remaining 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boiling point, reduce heat. Cover and simmer for 2 minutes.

Place fried meat on English muffin halves or mashed potatoes. Serve with Sherried Tomato Sauce. Makes 6 portions

The Piqua Historical Area. 174 acres, 21/2 miles northwest of Piqua. Here, in the Great Miami River Valley near crossroads used by prehistoric and historic Indians, traders and soldiers of several wars and white settlers, are found components of life from prehistoric times to the mid-19th century. John Johnson was owner of the property from 1804 until midcentury and a federal Indian agent for Western Ohio from 1812 to 1830. he was noted for his honest dealings with the Indians and was a prominent community and business leader.

Johnson House. The present restoration is based on physical and literary evidence dating prior to the 1830 period remodeling, to present the hosue as it appeared during Johnson's service as an Indian agent.

Miami-Erie Canal. The canal, built and operated by the state of Ohio, linked the Ohio River (at Cincinnati) to Lake Erie (at Toledo) via the Great Miami, Auglaize and Maumee River Valleys. The General Harrison canal boat was built by the Ohio Historical Society to carry visitors on the restored section of the canal.

Historic Indian Museum. First stateowned facility in Ohio dealing exclusively with the Indians of the post-Columbian or historic period with emphasis on the tribes associated with the Ohio country from the 17th through mid-19th centuries. Admission charge.

General to testify in Kent State case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) - An measure on attorneys for the shooting Army general with extensive National Guard experience was on the witness list today as the defense prepared to rest its case in the $46 million Kent State damages suit.

Lawyers defending 32 present or former state officials and Ohio National Guardsmen were debating whether to call the officer.

The general, who was not identified by defense attorneys, was to fly in Sunday for an interview during which the lawyers would learn of his point of view on the May 4, 1970, shootings.

Defense attorneys would like the general's testimony to counter that of James F. Ahern, former New Haven, victims, who have brought the suit. Those attorneys represent nine students injured and the families of four students killed

Last week a defense witness, former Kent State student Joy Bishop, testified in three minutes of direct examination that she saw a civilian fire the first

The plaintiffs tried to discredit her story in more than two hours of cross-examination.

Also on the witness list was ex-Guard Lt. Dwight G. Klein, the only defendant who has not told his version of events May 4 to the jury.

Klein was one of the last three guardsmen to draw objections when defense attorneys moved to dismiss the claims against their clients at the end

Plaintiffs' attorneys dropped their claims against nine guardsmen when they rested their victims' case two weeks ago. But the plaintiffs stressed that they wanted Klein and the other two to remain as defendants.

Rose raps 2,500th hit

Reds sweep Pirate series

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates are undoubtedly happy to be back home after four disastrous games in Cincinnati. But after a two-game midweek series against San Francisco, the Bucs will find themselves face-to-face once again with the National League's version of "Jaws." The Reds, who have chewed up virtually everything in sight this year, invade Pittsburgh for another four games starting with a twi-night doubleheader next Friday.

Actually, Cincinnati only nibbled at Pittsburgh on Sunday - but the resultwas the same. A pop-fly single by Dan Driessen broke a sixth-inning tie, then Bill Plummer and Pete Rose singled for seventh-inning runs that gave the Reds a 3-1 victory, their eighth straight

And it was the Pirates' sixth straight defeat and 11th in their last games, a nosedive that has slashed their onceimposing lead in the East to a scant one-half game over Philadelphia.

In Sunday's other NL games, the Phillies beat San Diego 10-4, St. Louis pulled within two games of first by ripping Atlanta 8-1, New York shut out San Francisco 3-0 to climb within 31/2 games of the top, Los Angeles downed Montreal 5-3 and Chicago defeated Houston 11-7.

Phillies 10, Padres 4

In a 14-hit Philadelphia attack on San Diego, Larry Bowa singled for a run in the first inning, then the Phils got three in the second, two on Dave Cash's triple. They got two more in the third on successive homers by Jay Johnstone and Greg Luzinski, his 31st of the season, and wrapped it up with four in the eighth, two on a single by Garry Maddox.

Thom Darden injured in Saturday contest

CLEVELAND, Ohio Cleveland Browns free safety Thom Darden suffered a knee injury Saturday that may keep him out for the rest of the season, team spokesmen said Sunday.

The team physician says Darden received a torn ligament Saturday during a game in which the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 14-6.

The injury probably will require surgery, but that decision has not been made yet, team spokesmen said.

The go ahead people.

Cardinals 8. Braves 1 The Cards might be working up a love-hate relationship with the Reds. Cincinnati, having helped them the past four games, now invades St. Louis for a three-game set before heading for

"I expect the Reds to play us the way they've played us all year," Cards' Manager Red Schoendienst said. "It's important for a team to have momentum — and that's something they've had all year. But we've got a little momentum, too, and we'll battle

They beat the Braves handily as Ken Reitz drove in three runs and Ron Fairly added two RBI.

Mets 3, Giants 0

Tom Seaver drove in one run and scored one to become the league's first 17-game winner with relief help from Jerry Koosman. Seaver pitched threehit ball for 7 1-3 innings and fanned six Giants to take over the NL strikeout lead with 175

The Mets gave him the only run he needed on third-inning doubles by Mike Phillips and Del Unser.

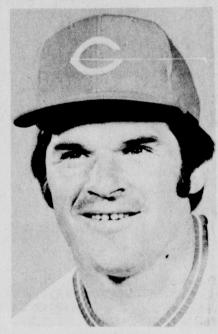

Dodgers 5, Expos 3

Bill Russell's two-run single capped a decisive three-run second inning that carried Los Angeles past the Expos. scored six runs in the seventh on six Mike Marshall picked up his 11th save straight singles to beat the Astros. after Gary Carter hit a two-run homer off Doug Rau in the eighth.

A's top Brewers; face Tigers

McEnaney

Eastwick

By FRED ROTHENBERG

AP Sports Writer The three-time world champion Oakland A's don't scare easily, but they were scared of the baseball Sunday, and tonight their knees are shaking because they're up against one of baseball's hottest teams — the Detroit Tigers.

The reason for their baseball phobia was Milwaukee fireballer Pete Broberg who hit three A's batters, the same number who hit him back. Broberg gave up three hits, none of them in the second inning when the A's scored all their runs in a 3-1 victory over the Brewers.

Broberg walked Billy Williams, then hit Sal Bando and Gene Tenace on successive pitches to load the bases. A walk to Jim Holt forced in the first run, Bando scored on a double play grounder, then Tenace scored on Robin Yount's 34th error of the season.

"My fastball was moving, maybe too much," said Broberg, who walked eight men in eight innings. "They've got some hitters who stand close to the plate, and the ball was jumping up and biting them.

The A's are afraid of being bitten by the Tigers, who have finally found their teeth after 19 straight losses. Ray Bare broke the futility string Saturday night with a two-hitter as the Tigers won 8-0, then rookie Vern Ruhle made it two in a row Sunday with a five-hit, 7-0 victory over the California Angels.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston dropped the first game of its doubleheader with Chicago 6-2, then won the nightcap 4-3 in 11 innings; Baltimore blanked Texas 4-0; Cleveland

Dr. Hagerty retains WCC golf crown

Dr. Robert Hagerty successfully defended the Annual Men's Senior Golf Championship title Sunday at the Washington Country Club.

He carded a 39-39-78 to take this year's crown by a one-stroke margin over Harris Willis.

Howard Burnett won the handicap division by carding a net score 67.

Age-group handicap winners were Carl Elberfeld with a net score 69, George Walker with a 73, Ed Vollette with a 69 and Hap Weatherly with a net score 71.

Next Sunday the country club will hold its annual team scramble tournament for both men and women. Actual score results for Sunday's tourney follow:

78 — Dr. Robert Hagerty.

cluded Tom Veryzer's two-run homer and three hits by Ron LeFlore. Oriole 4, Rangers 0 Baltimore's Jim Palmer, the major backed by an 11-hit attack which in-league's first 19-game winner at 19-7, silenced Texas on four hits. This was his third shutout in his last four outings, two of which were two-hitters. He has pitched nine shutouts this season. Ken Singleton, who stroked a two-run double to extend his hitting streak to 11 games, now has 19 hits in his last 33 at-bats for a .633 pace. Indians 14, Twins 5

Left-hander Fritz Peterson now owns both Indians victories in their last six games. But this triumph actually belonged to Cleveland's hitters who mauled five Minnesota pitchers for 19 hits, highlighted by George Hendrick's three-run homer and Buddy Bell's four seven-team Babe Ruth tournament. The London All-Stars took home the championship trophy by shutting out the Xenia Babe Ruth All-Stars, 4-0, in the final game of the tourney.

The host team, Jeffersonville Lions Club All-Stars, finished fifth in their

The Mt. Sterling nine took third in the annual baseball tournament followed by another team from Xenia while Jeffersonville placed fifth ahead of South Charleston and Northeastern.

The London squad, which also took the second place trophy in the Washington C.H. Babe Ruth tourney, was presented with individual trophies and the second place award given to Xenia was donated by the Jeffersonville Lion's Club.

London's Ernie Daily was voted the tournament's "Most Valuable Player" and was given a trophy for his performances in the London wins. He batted .571, played outstanding defense and got credit for two victories on the

Beck victorious over 'Big Daddy' Garlits

WEST SALEM, Ohio (AP) - Don Garlits suffered his first International Hot Rod Association loss of the year Sunday, losing to Canadian Gary Beck by three-hundredths of a second at Dragway 42.

Beck, of Edmonton, Alta., streaked down the quartermile drag strip in 6.00 seconds, three-hundredths of a second faster than Garlits, of Tampa, Fla.

Baker wins race; Tiny Lund killed

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Buddy Baker, a guy with a heavy foot and a big heart, didn't know exactly how to take his victory in Sunday's Talladega 500 stock car race.

Exhausted after edging Richard Petty by a scant three feet, Baker's face turned sad and his blue eyes welled with tears when told his longtime friend Tiny Lund had been killed in a smashup early in terace.

"Tiny used to drive for my dad," said Baker, son of former driver Buck Baker. "I used to go to Tiny's place and

"He was ...," Baker said in a choking voice, "one of the great people in racing.'

Lund, at 6-foot-4 and 250 pounds a physical match for the husky Baker, was crushed to death when his car was broadsided.

It was Lund's only NASCAR Grand National race this season, but the 43year-old veteran from Cross, S.C., was the second leading driver in the late model sportsman ranks. Lund, the 1963 Daytona 500 winner, had been tapering off his racing schedule.

Baker, spared the sad news by his crew, didn't know about Lund's death until asked his reaction in a post-race interview. Stunned by the news, Baker walked away for a few minutes to be by

It wasn't the only tragedy in motorsports over the weekend. Driver Mark Donohue and two race track guards were critically injured when his Penske Formula I racer crashed into the rails during a practice lap prior to the start of the Austrian Grand Prix in Zelteg, Austria.

Lund's death, the first in NASCAR Grand National racing since Larry Smith died here in 1973, cast a pall over the usual tight finish. Eight of the 13 races here since 1969 have ended with the top two cars less than a length

The victory, Baker's second at the 2.66-mile Alabama International Motor Speedway trioval this season, was worth about $24,000, and was his 10th triumph in 17 years in Southern style stock car racing.

Don Bies winner of Hartford Open

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) -"Winning never left my mind," Don Bies said

"I was trying to get it out of my mind. trying to blank it out, trying not to think about winning and just concentrate on what I'm doing.

"But I couldn't do it. I was beginning to wonder if I'd ever win."

The wonder, along with the frustration, failure and disappointment, came to an end Sunday

Washam wins Berg Classic

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - JoAnn Washam capitalized on the frustrations of a couple of near misses during her threeyear pro golf career and crushed her competition in the first annual Patty Berg Classic.

"I just played the course," said the petite golfer from Fort Worth, Tex. 'It's tough sometimes when a lot of great players are right on your heels, but it really helped once I had that eagle on three.'

Miss Washam concluded one of the most spectacular tournament performances in recent years on the Ladies Professional Golf Associaton (LPGA) tour Sunday and won the $45,-000 tourney with a blistering 13-underpar 206 for her first pro victory.

However, it hasn't always been that easy for the 25-year-old Miss Washam. Only two months ago, at Medina, Ohio, Miss Washam carried the lead into the final round, but collapsed with an 80 on the final day.

"I'd hoped I would profit from what happened at Medina," she said. "I was relaxed and just played the course."

when Bies, an easy-going former club pro, rolled in a six-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole and beat Hubert Green for the title - and $40,000 - in the Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

'I couldn't believe it - I still can't believe it — when the putt went in the hole and I was a winner," he said.

Bies, who joined the tour almost by accident eight years ago, had won a lot of money but nothing else in his pro career. At 37 he may be the oldest firsttime winner ever. The records don't

"I thought I might never win," Bies said. "I've played reasonably good over the years. I've been in contention before. About half those times, when I was in contention, I played pretty good. It wasn't like I was choking all the time. Sometimes the putts just wouldn't fall. Sometimes somebody just played better than I did."

This time the quiet, low-key Bies got it home.

It was a battle.

He had to make a 20-foot birdie putt on the 71st hole to regain a share of the top spot and force the playoff.

He had to make a nerve-testing, sixfoot par-saving putt to stay alive on the first playoff hole.

And he had to make another sixfooter on the second hole to win it.

Causes of Head and Face Pain

One of the most distressing complaints brought to the attention of the doctor is pain in the face and head.

Such a vaguely described symptom represents a challenge in diagnosis because the nerves of the head, the face, the ears, the eyes, the jaws and the neck have an intricate system of intercommunication.

In order to track down "headache," the universal term for pain in that area, cooperation between the doctor and the patient is necessary.

Far too often, patients become quickly discouraged and never completely pursue the problem. Doctors sense the patient's disappointment when a quick answer is not found. The discouragement that follows often results in a failure to establish a positive diagnosis.

The teeth, the sinuses, the bite of the teeth, jaw joint disturbances, muscle tensions of the neck, allergic reactions, toxic responses to drugs, arthritis of the cervical spine of the neck, circulatory problems, and neurological disorders are only some of the vast number of possibilities.

Diligence must continue, in spite of temporary disappointment, if the correct diagnosis is to be made and proper treatment started.

A Nobel Prize should be given to the doctor who designs a battery-heated stethoscope.

Patients always complain that doctors apparently wash their hands in ice water and keep their stethoscopes in the refrigerator before they listen to the chest.

The flimsy disposable paper examining gowns are hardly sufficient to cover the breakout of goose pimples that patients

Hartke's offices reported bugged

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Sen. Vance Hartke's offices were allegedly bugged before the 1970 elections by persons trying to gain information on the Democrat's contributors, the Indianapolis Star said today.

In a copyrighted story, the Star quoted unidentified sources as saying three men posing as telephone repairmen planted the listening devices in August and September of 1970. The paper said the sources were persons either formerly or presently associated with International Investigators Inc., an Indianapolisbased private detective agency. The agency is operated by C. Tim Wilcox, who was recently charged with directing the theft of files from the Indiana Private School Accrediting Commission in 1972.

The Star quoted Hartke as saying he remembered having problems with leaks during the 1970 campaign. Marion County Prosecutor James F. Kelley said the allegations would be investigated by a county grand jury.

Indiana population shows increase

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) Indiana's population has grown to 5,330,000 since the 1970 census with the addition of 136,000 new Hoosiers, an Indiana University researcher says.

IU School of Business researcher Morton J. Marcus said Hamilton was the fastest growing county with a growth rate of 19.4 per cent in the last five years. The county added 10,600 persons to its population. Warrick County had the second-highest rate at 19 per cent, Marcus said.

"It does suggest a possible stimulus to retail trade, to the demand for housing and to the demand for certain government services," Marcus said of the increase. "Population decline does not necessarily signify a movement toward either ecological balance or economic decay."

Americans could lose all privacy

Sen. Church sees technology dangers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate panel probing U.S. intelligence agencies says the government has the technological capacity to impose "total tyranny" if a dictator ever came to power.

"There would be no place to hide," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the committee, said Sunday on

NBC's "Meet the Press."
Church said the eavesdropping technology given the government by intelligence agencies would enable the government to impose total tyranny and there would be no way to fight back because the most careful effort to combine together in resistance to the government, no matter how privately it was done, is within the reach of the government to know, such is the capability of this technology.

Church said that U.S. intelligence agencies, "in the need to develop a capacity to know what potential enemies are doing," perfected a "very extensive capability of intercepting messages wherever they may be in the airwaves.

"Now, that is necessary and important to the United States as we look abroad at enemies or potential enemies. We must know," Church said.

"At the same time that capability at anytime could be turned around on the American people and no American would have any privacy left, such as ... telephone converations, telegrams, it doesn't matter."

In other matters, Church said:

-Covert CIA actions on behalf of Portugal's non-Communist majority would "at least conform to our values as a country and to our professed principles." But he indicted such a move would be unwise because "right now there is a very grave risk of CIA exposure" and because Portuguese democrats were getting help from European countries.

-He did not share the view that Central Intelligence Agency Director William E. Colby should be replaced. Colby "has been forthcoming" with his committee, Church said.

The crowning of the winner- who kept repeating, "I'm so excited, I can hardly believe it"- capped a traditional beauty pageant complete with swimsuit parades down a runway, evening gown displays and giggly speeches. The crowning also featured the protest that also is fast becoming a tradition at beauty pageants. The group of women and a few men outside chanted feminist slogans and carried signs saying things like, "everyone is

Three charges filed on youth

A 17-year-old Columbus youth was arrested by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department early Saturday and charged with criminal trespass, unauthorized use of property and property destruction.

Fayette County Sheriff Donald L. Thompson reported the youth and a friend entered the home of Barbara Fitch, 10383 Washington - New Martinsburg Road, at 7:30 a.m. Saturday without permission. The two then exited and started a tractor belonging to Eldridge Cockerill, 9661 Washington - New Martinsburg Road, and drove it through the front yard of Kenneth Knisley, 10336 Washington -New Martinsburg Road. The tractor was then driven into a roadside ditch. Sheriff's deputies are seeking the who disappeared upon their arrival. The boy who was arrested has been released to his parents.
